Contents of Volume 18 1987

January

- 5 Gallium arsenide electronics: G Gibbons
- 11 Patents and other intellectual property: S Powell
- 17 SOLID magnetometers: uses in medicine: S J Swithenby
- 25 The Philips Research Laboratories—an evolutionary perspective:
Niels Wiedenhof
- 32 Siemens Research Laboratories: H Pfisterer

Editorial: Reflections on Industry Year 1986 3

Conference reports 41 Talking point 45

March

- 53 Wind-assisted ship propulsion: B R Clayton
- 61 Electromagnetic compatibility: J J Goedbloed
- 68 An American's view of ESPRIT: J F Blackburn
- 72 UK performance in basic solid state physics: P M D Collins, M Hart and D M Hicks
- 79 Medical electro-optics: measurements in the human microcirculation:
D P Jones

Editorial: Electricity's role in industrial energy efficiency 51

Book reviews 86 Conference reports 88

Talking point 92 Trends in silicon integrated circuit technology 94

May

- 101 Physics in practical fibre optic systems: M Chown
- 107 Venture capital and its role in physics R and D: A R Diment
- 114 The uncertainty principle in education and training—physicists and Britain's economic crisis: P Senker
- 120 Spacecraft thermal design: M Williamson

Editorial: Physics and energy 99

Book reviews 128 Conference reports 131

Meetings and courses 135 Talking point 136

July

- 143 Superconducting magnets: J H Coupland
- 153 Distributed optical fibre sensors: I P Giles
- 158 The rise and fall of lead in petrol: I D G Berwick
- 165 Ring laser gyros: Sidney G Smith
- 170 Development of an electronic nose: The Warwick-Glasgow electronic nose project

Conference reports 177 Book reviews 181

Talking point 185

September

- 193 Amorphous semiconductors: S Reynolds and R E Belford
204 Achieving electromagnetic compatibility: F J Derham
209 Magnetic monitoring of DC electric railways: F J Lowes
215 The physics of hurricanes: R P Pearce

Editorial: Technology in physics—an undervalued contribution? 191

Book reviews 224 Conference report 226

Meetings and courses 227 Talking point 228

Trends in optical fibres 230

November

- 235 Monitoring ocean currents: M J Howarth
244 Defence research and civil spin-off: D H Parkinson
250 Organic materials for nonlinear optical devices: W Blau
258 Thorn-EMI Central Research Laboratories—an anecdotal history:
J A Lodge

Conference reports 269

Meetings and courses 271 Talking point 272
